An attempt was made by the authorities at Kavak, Turkey, last Sunday, to search the French steamer Armenie, from Black Sea ports, for Armenian emigrants. In consequence of the refusal of the captain to allow the search the steamer was detained for a day and a half. Her owners have made a demand upon the Turkish government for an indemnity of £1,000 for the steamer's detention.